The Windrose B&B is in a nice villa of seventies, with its splits levels, airy and comfortable, in the suburb (8 km far) of Padua (expressway A4 exit Padova ovest)

During the good season one can enjoy a relaxed time, out in the garden in the tiny playground for both children and grown-ups. Those who intend to spend the time in a peaceful way, may take advantage of the tan-terrace.

In the cold season, a small library including a computer is at the guests' disposal. A basement parlour with a countryside-style fireplace is available, while the tv-set is located in the main sitting room.

Just outside, on the left hand side, a riverfront walk begins, heading the so-called 'elm information area' where you can get acquainted with the local flora and fauna

On the opposite side, heading to the right, you reach the Brenta river, where some interesting touristic rides may be started, both on a bike, or if you like, on horseback
